In Loving Memory of My Sister-In-Law

In His Presence

In the quiet hush of twilight's embrace, A beautiful soul finds eternal grace. No more pain, no more weary strife, Just the tender touch of everlasting life.

The stars above, like twinkling eyes, Gaze down upon this sacred prize. Their celestial whispers weave a song, As the soul dances where angels belong.

The moon, a gentle lantern aglow, Guides this spirit to where dreams flow. Amongst celestial gardens, fragrant and fair, The soul rests, cradled in heavenly air.

No more earthly burdens to bear, Only serenity, love, and boundless care. The Divine's embrace, warm and true, Welcomes this soul to skies of azure hue.

So let the winds carry this refrain, A tribute to a soul that's free from pain: "In His presence, forever at rest, A beautiful soul, eternally blessed."

“ I remember when I first met Cheryl, she had a smile that caught my attention and she had a sense of humor. When we traveled in her car, we would take the side roads. I remember asking Cheryl could you please take the beltway? She said no. But we had fun. I will truly miss my friend.

“ To Beverly and the entire Cunningham family--our forever neighbors! We thank God for Cheryl's life as a child of God, and as a neighbor whom we accepted as family. There is honor in a life well-lived, healing in remembering, and joy in knowing that Cheryl is now at peace and resting in the mansion the Lord has prepared for her, after living in an earthly "home" Healthcare Facility for years, It's not how long flowers bloom, but how beautifully. I remember the many conversations Cheryl and I had talking about the Lord and His faithfulness in good times and not so good times. Cheryl enjoyed reading articles I wrote for the Southern Baptist Convention. So, Beverly and others, thank God for the assurance that this world is not our home, but that a blessed eternity awaits all who trust in Him. You do not have to mourn as those who have not hope. Hold on to precious memories of your loved one. May God comfort You as You remember and mourn.

In His love,

“ My cousin Cheryl had the most fantastic laugh. It always commanded the air, forcing smiles from ear to ear. I remember sulking upstairs in my room about something stupid at #9 Cottage Grove, hearing her laugh downstairs and feeling a burst of involuntary joy that I don't think I've ever felt again the same way. I feel blessed to have a vivid memory of her laugh and her smile.

“ One thing I will always remember about Cheryl is her contagious laughter. You could not help but join in her laughter with her arms crossed and her head thrown back. She was always such a joy to be around. Her storytelling was top tier and had you caught up in whatever she was speaking about. My oldest memories include Cheryl, she is unforgettable. I almost never left her presence without hugs, laughter and a full belly.
