“ My deepest condolences to the Jacintho family. I unfortunately could not make the services but wanted to share a few words. The best word that I can offer to describe my experience of David is inspirational. I learned early on of David's independent and strong willed nature when I tried to "help" him with his wheel chair one day. That day, I also learned of his gift of sarcasm :-). From that day on we went on to share not only work experiences but a friendship. David and I did not see one another frequently once we stopped working together but every time I connected with him it seemed like old times and involved laughs. I just LOVED his upbeat nature and sense of humor. David rose to be one of the best Deputy Project Managers for Resources at NASA/GSFC because of his knowledge and expertise. More importantly, he made and supported many friends and left many smiles behind along the way. Godspeed David as you begin your heavenly journey. May we all remember the smiles that you generated here on earth as you now begin to spread the joy and laughter up above.

“ My condolences to David's family. I enjoyed working with David for many years at NASA GSFC and we worked closely for a year on the SGSS project. In fact he was my gen 2.0 Jacintho to work with as I worked with his father Jim as well in the 90's. David was not only excellent in his role as the project business manager, but he was an incredible team builder. He was very good at building an esprit de corps, from softball games, to good humor and always engaging in social activities. David, you made a difference on a challenging project and you left a positive mark in those of us fortunate to have worked with you. Godspeed my friend, Godspeed.

“ I thank everyone who attended the memorial service and those who watched it virtually. It was a beautiful service and everyone said some very kind words about David and some funny ones. I deeply thank you all for your love of David. He was so very special to me. I carry him in my heart along with his father. I just didn't want to lose him but I am thankful he is our of pain now. All the doctors along the way did all they could to help and later tried to save him. But GOD wanted him now so he called and now David can work in heaven along side of our LORD. I believe he already has his angel wings! I love you David and I miss you!

“ I am very sad and have a broken heart to lose my son, David. Because I have a very bad case of vertigo I will not be able to attend his service which is breaking my heart. I loved David so much and we shared many things together, good and bad. He was truly a very special guy and did more things in his difficult life than any other person I know. He loved life but unfortunately his life was very hard for him. He was a fighter and always came out of surgeries and hospitals and overcame his medical issues. Everyone loved him, I know! I will miss him more than words can say and I have to stop myself from calling or texting him everyday. Even with all his medical issues, he was always there for me and I tried to always be there for him. I don't know how to get through this time in my life without David because we did so much together and shared our lives daily with him in MD and me in FL. I was so very proud of him and his accomplishments. He did things that were fun, dangerous like jumping out of a plane! He was a good boy when he was little but could be a little devil when he wanted to just as all kids are at times. He was limited on a lot of things that he wanted to try or do but on the other hand, he lived his limited life to the fullest and loved people especially girls! He is now in heaven with our Lord and in my heart next to his father who passed away 8 years ago. I was proud of the fact that David lived in his own house, cooked, cleaned, was a "father/mommy" to his kitty Max, drove his own car, did his own taxes, worked at NASA for almost 40 years and was very independent. He wanted to do things HIS way, and he did! I believe he is now an angel and already has his wings! I thank GOD for giving him to me. My husband and I were the lucky ones that GOD chose to have him. I LOVE YOU DAVID forever and ever.

“ David was my best friend, brother, and an uncle to our girls. He will always be in my heart next to his mom and dad.

Him and I have been through a lot of good times and some that were sad. He was very special to me and my family. We always included David in our lives since he was a big part of it.

Words can not express how broken my heart is right now. I still feel numb. I will always cherish the wonderful memories of my brother. He brought a lot of joy and love to our family. I miss our daily conversations, hanging out, his infectious smile and laugh. Seeing his face light up when he was around his nieces, made my heart smile. He had a heart of gold and was a big kid at heart.

I miss you so much, Bro. I'm so thankful you were in our lives. You always called me your Angel, now you are mine.

Mom, I just want you to know that I'm here for you. I hope time heals your pain and David's sweet memories fill your heart.

Holding you close in our thoughts wrapped with hugs and prayers. We love you.
