“ Fiona had a very warm, sweet, pleasant personality As I reminisce on my tenure as Resident Hall Assistant of Linda Austin Hall, I smile because I remember how engaging she was. Fiona aline could have entertained a crowd with mime. I am bereft of words. God is making up His jewels. Let us be steadfast unto the end so we can see Fiona when the roll is called up yonder.

“ A few years ago Fiona came to our Costco to pick up donations. I shared with her that my mother was recovering from a stroke and asked her to pray for mom. She dropped everything and we prayed right there on the parking lot. Unfortunately God had other plans and took my mom home to be with him. But I was so appreciative of her willingness to help me through such a difficult time. She truly had a huge heart. It is a tribute to her parents for the way they raised her.

“ Glenda, Debra, Nashon, Cynthia, Leroy, Bertrand, Peter. My siblings and I are so profoundly sorry. Just take comfort in the fact that only God can heal the heartache when our loved ones depart. In fact, their love leaves memories that nothing or no one can steal. Much love.

“ My heart is so sore...I met Fiona at Caribbean union College, now University of the Southern Caribbean. A few years later we would reconnect in Maryland. By then she was a new mom to Nahshon and at times I would babysit him. Fiona was a beautiful person and I am so happy that she knew that. She was also one of the hardest working and ambitious person I knew...without question. She new God had a plan and purpose for her life and was going to ensure that she would not disappoint. When Nahshon came along her resolve was steadfast.

Beyond these and her bright presence that shon through her beautiful eyes, i remain eternally grateful to Fiona for another reason. We both worked at the Young Technocrats math and science Charter school in Washington DC. At the time I did not have a car and used public transportation to get to work.so Fiona took it upon herself to drive me home everyday!!! During the Christmas holiday of 1998 she decided to visit relatives in Tobago. Thoughtful as ever, she wanted to ensure I did not have to travel by train so she spoke to a fellow teacher, Mr. Henry whom she had asked to take me home as he also lived in silver springs. That was the day I met my husband. We grew to love each other, got married and are now family of five.

So when we heard Fiona was not well, My family and I prayed for her healing. My children saw my tears and made her healing their prayer as well. When our prayers were not answered our discussion turned to unanswered prayers, death and why God chooses to answer some prayers and not others. It was difficult to get them to grasp but we how remain hopeful knowing that there is a promise that there will be a meeting in the air when Jesus returns.

Fiona remains our my heart surrounded by positive, inspiring, and beautiful memories. I will always be grateful for the mammoth role she played my life's happiness.

My prayer is now for Nahshon and my support for him remains steady for as long as he needs us.

“ To the Smith and Grandison families. Fiona will surely be missed. Her beautiful smile and personality cannot be erased from my memory. It seems like just yesterday, she was a beautiful bubbly young girl hopping and skipping in Harmon High School yard in Tobago and answering " yes aunt June". Sleeping peace my friend, until that great getting up morning.

“ *Fiona was like a family to Cecil and I. We recognized the loving personality from the day we picked her and Debra up from the airport when they first arrived in the US. Her heart warming smile and positive response to every situation will always be remembered. We look forward to seeing that smile again when her Faither calls ‘Welcome home children’. Glenda you went above your expected duty by Fiona, so praise Him for granting you the privilege of mothering such a gem. Just remember that He says in Isaiah 41:10 Fear not, for I am with you; be not dismayed, for I am your God; I will strengthen you, I will help you, I will uphold you with my righteous right hand. “ We met Fiona around 2005 while attending Miracle Temple...now called Miracle City. She invited us to her home for Sabbath lunch and as a superb host she made us feel really comfortable. She kept us as friends and would call to check on us and occasionally would drop by to see how we were doing. I recall on one of her home visits, Desmond made his famous pizza she enjoyed it so much that she encouraged him to open his own pizzeria and kept constantly asking him when is the opening. She was multitalented and multifaceted... with all of that she was humble and the love of her son always shone through. The last time we met was in 2019 when she drove from her home in Laurel to pick us up in Baltimore to attend Pastor Palmer's church in NE Washington. Fiona was a gem and will be sorely missed by those whose lives she touched. We thank God for the life she lived and the hope of the resurrection and to know that death will finally die. So until then sleep on Fiona.

“ Fiona liked to be called Jessica, in recent years. She wore a smile and had a faith-filled prayer and powerful praise on her lips. I always remembered to reach out on her birthday, because she shared birthdays with my daughter, Eudora. This year, as we caught up, she shared pictures of Nyla, her granddaughter, in her arms and in utero with Nahshon. We ended with her trying to figure out what her grandma name should be. She recollected old mutual friends and expressed encouragement and gratitude for our friendship. I know there are no words that will soothe the grief, sadness and heartache, but one thing I am sure of is her relationship with The Creator. May her faith continue to live on in you Nahshon. May her God be your God as you raise Nyla in the fear and admonition of God. Faint not!!!

“ My Fiona, how I will miss you. We spent the last 2 weeks of your life almost every evening chatting on the phone. We worshipped together and prayed together preparing you for your surgery. We spent a sabbath together online worshipping our Heavenly Father. Your last words to me on Wednesday was ‘ I love you aunty’ and my last words to you was ‘I love you too’. These words will live on with me until I see you again at the sound of the trumpet when Christ comes again. Sleep my Fiona until Jesus call you to eternal life.

“ I am a fellow alum of Takoma Academy. Fiona and I reconnected at Miracle City church. We would mostly talk about nursing, and her aspirations to advance her nursing career. She loved her son and spoke fondly of him as well. I am sorry that her life was cut short, but I know that Fiona loved the Lord and I'm hopeful that we will reconnect again someday.

“ Fiona was a true gem of a human. She was such a self less person who would give so much for others. She will truly be missed her memory will continue to live on in her family and son. So many countless memories I treasure. The many phone calls, messages, prayers ,the trips to the MD where she would drive my family and I around whether sightseeing or shopping. Fiona you will truly be missed. We will forever remember you...Longing for that great getting morning! Sleep in Peace!

“ Fiona, we went to TA together and had our sons at nearly the same time. It was an honor calling you my friend. The last time I ran in to you at the ABC, you were so happy. You were excited about your new grand baby. You were telling how excited you were about your son and his future. Thank you for journeying through motherhood with me. I will miss you my friend.

Gone Too Soon!

I am very surprised. It was an unpleasant surprise for me. For two months I have been looking for and calling Fiona so that she could give a massage for me and my family (as she used to do). A few minutes ago I tried looking for her again. So I decided to Google her. When I clicked on her picture - to see if I could find a way to contact her - I found the picture and the comments of condolences. Today, April 14, 2022, after so much searching I found her and now I understand why she was not answering my calls. My God! I will be praying for her family. She was an excellent human being. I have missed her all this time, and will continue to missing her. Come Lord Jesus, please, come very soon!!!
