“ He was so happy and funny when we were together looking at properties in Fla. The whole family had such a beautiful connection. And when there was a minor flood he was very worried about those gucci slides. We made a lot of jokes about that. I am so sorry to the whole family for such a big loss. Peace and light. Heather

“ I love Ishu and his beloved girls Ripi and Ishar. I was always so inspired to see the three of them together - they were a seamless, loving unit that seemed capable of anything. That power and truth can never perish. Sat Nam.

“ Ishu and I went to same school in Calcutta. Though we were in different sections, we shared the bond over our common heritage/religion and the fact that our dads knew each other well. We reconnected years later when both of us were settled in USA. We bonded over football, work, and some common acquaintances. All his friends knew him as a kind soul who was passionate about family and sports. His passing away came as a shock to everyone. He will be missed. My sincerest condolences and prayers for his family.

I love Ishu so! I got to see him on many occasion with his beloved girls, Ripi and Ishar. A closer-knit family is hard to find. It was inspiring and beautiful to witness and experience.
