“ As a mischievous six year old heading for the first time to the America I was not only incredibly excited but also a little apprehensive meeting relatives I knew little about in a vast country I knew nothing about.

I really shouldn't have been worried because within the five minutes of meeting yourself, and your wonderful family, my apprehension vanished almost instantly.

From your prodigious sense of humor to your accommodating and welcoming nature I will never forget my time spent with yourself and your family.

Thank you for the amazing memories, the copious sweets you allowed me to eat and mouth watering fried chicken your marvelous wife would cook for me.

R.I.P Uncle Saina and I hope you will be free of pain and in peace with Aunty Virginia.

“ Today we sent a loving soul on it,s final journey. Saina, you were truly a remarkable person, always laughing and cracking jokes. The memories we made together with my family will live on. Farewell my dear, Kay Ash and all the others are waiting on you.
